'Profs' Cage Record Number 30 for Year

The Georgia Teachers College Professors set 30 new records on the hardwood during the 1954-55 basketball season. In all probability, this is the most records set by a GTC team in the history of the college.

Suggested Cure for Spring Fever

Spring is officially arrived this year Sunday, March 20, at 10:45 p. m.

But there have been signs that spring has been with us for some time. The birds singing, the grass turning green, the trees leafing, flowers blooming.

And already spring fever is attacking the people.

For those who feel it coming on Dr. Morgan Martin, director of Canadian Mental Health Clinic, offers a cure.

Gardening! He says gardening is good for you. It's good for you in many ways; it not only makes you feel better physically and emotionally, but it helps you to do things with your children, with the neighborhood kids, and with the neighbors.

Gardening satisfied one's deep urge toward creativeness, toward production, toward growth. For the fussy person, the careful aligning of rows and the popping in of seeds at just the right distance for each other and at just the right depth is good medicine. For the person with tense feelings, gardening is almost curative. As a matter of fact, it is a well-recognized form of treatment of people who get more upset than the average.

Children get deeper satisfaction than most people realize from being part of an activity with an adult. The business of spraying the water all about and playing in the mud is not only fun but it is a very important part of the emotional development of children.

Even if you can't produce much with your nurturing of nature you can be sure that the effect will nature your nature!

And besides, it's good for you.

The lady folk will speak good of us

The House and Garden Tour recently sponsored by the Garden Clubs of Statesboro was a great success.

More than 500 people, including a large number of people from this section of the state and many from other parts of Georgia spent all day Wednesday, March 9, visiting in some of the town's more beautiful homes.

This sort of thing is wonderful for our town. It is something which attracts the ladyfolk more than the menfolk, but it is a recognized fact that the ladyfolk talk more than the menfolk and so we know that during the latter part of that week Statesboro was the topic of conversation in many homes over the state.

We commend those who put on the tour and hope that it becomes an annual affair.

We commend those home owners who opened their houses and gardens to these people. We know it to be a lot of trouble, but all things that bring good to us are some trouble, but worth it.

Mothers can feel more secure

Governor Marvin Griffin has signed the bill outlawing fireworks in Georgia after July 14.

We commend the legislature upon enacting this measure and the governor for signing it into law.

The new law provides that supervised fireworks displays may still be put on at fairs and expositions, and special events, but they must be conducted under the supervision of a fire marshal.

Use by individuals of ordinary festal explosives — like firecrackers, roman candles, sparklers, rockets, etc., is forbidden by the new law.

The effective date was put off until after July 4 to give dealers a chance to sell their present stocks.

We feel sure that mothers will find a feeling of security at certain times of the year when it has been traditional to set off fireworks. We feel sure they will applaud our lawmakers for their action.

Youth will always find a welcome here

Recently more than 3,250 young people were in Statesboro to take part in the Region Five Music Festival.

Later there were a great number of young people here from all Southeast Georgia attending the sixth annual Christian Life Conference.

We think such occasions as bring into our community young people like these are wonderful. It can only reflect with credit on us and our people.

We believe that when young people come here they find us understanding and sympathetic and that means much to them and us. It's good for us all.

Our Great America

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

Look into the sky most any time during the afternoon, after school, and you see a kite lazily swinging back and forth in the breeze, or suspended steadily in a full wind and know that on the ground at the end of the string there stands a kid feeling all the thrill that goes with flying a kite. There's the tug of the kite on the string. There's the imagination, bound by the skies above him.

And it's just possible that Dad is standing there beside him. And it's very possible that Dad is trying to maneuver the kite—until it dips and plunges to the earth—then it's son's kite.

And we'll bet that Dad at one time or another bragged to his son that in his day he flew kites himself. And we'll bet that if son comes up with "Make me a kite Dad," Dad sorta blusters himself out of it with—"Why don't you build your kite at the Recreation Center"—or "You just go build it yourself—I'm too busy."

But if you're the Dad you ought to be, you'll put down

Light wood one-fourth inch by three-eighths inch will do.

Make the vertical rib 35 inches long, and the cross stick 30 inches. Bind the center of the cross stick to the vertical stick about eight inches from the top. Notch the four stick ends, and outline the kite frame with string, making sure the two sticks are at right angles. A good grade of light paper is the best covering. Cut it to shape, allowing a two-inch overlap. Use one inch of the overlap for pasting over the string frame. The other inch is for looseness; the kite will fly better if the paper is not too tight.

Then place the kite face down with the low string beneath and the kite humped up. Tie a bridge string on to the bottom of the vertical rib, and make it 49 and one-half inches long. Punch holes in the paper on each side of the vertical rib string from its top end, and tie the other end of the bridge string about 16 inches from the end that is fastened to the upper part of the vertical rib. For the tail, use four or five feet of narrow, lightweight rag strips tied together. Fasten the tail to the bottom of the vertical rib.

If the flying string is attached too high on the bridge, or the tail is too short, or the kite is lopsided, it may dive to the ground when once up. You'll have to experiment and repair.

No doubt, junior will consider you a hero when that kite is up

HERE'S WHAT New 1955 No-Nox does for engine parts...

This spark plug is from one of the original equipment plugs used in Gulf test fleet cars. Normally, plugs need cleaning or replacement after 5,000 to 10,000 miles. This plug and its mates did not need cleaning or replacement after 15,000 miles with new NO-NOX.

what's more...No gasoline—no, not a single one—has higher octane than...

New 1955 GULF NO-NOX

Fill up now with new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX and feel the difference in power that really works for you mile after mile. Right from the start, you'll get these lasting benefits:

- More complete engine protection than with so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines.
- Extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving you do most.
- Stall-proof smoothness... instant starts... fast, fuel-saving warm-ups.

The 19th Hole

"FOR WHEN THE ONE GREAT SCORER COMES..."

The Titleholders Golf Tournament was a huge success, with Patty Berg winning with a 291 for the 72 hole tournament. Our own Georgia Gal, Mary Lena Faulk, of Thomaston, handled second place with a 283. The weather was great and the course was in excellent shape, especially the greens.

Doing the scoring was Sam Tilson, of Wilson Sporting Goods, who will handle the same job here for us April 17th.

THE MASTERS TOURNAMENT is the big golfing event to be held in Georgia. It is in Augusta, of course, and will take place on April 7-9-10. You owe it to yourself to go over and see the beauties of nature (we refer, of course, to the greenery). Even if you don't play golf it is quite interesting just to see the people who flock there to the thousands to view the tournament.

WMU RALLY AT HARVILLE CHURCH

The Brooklet District WMU Rally will be held April 14, at 10:30 AM at Harville Church.

At the noon hour, the women of the church will serve dinner at the church. The program for the day will be presented in the local papers at a later date.

WMS - HARVILLE

The regular meeting of WMS was held at the church Monday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Anderson, R. G. Dekle, Arthur James Riggs, Olliff Dekle, John L. Atkins and Leon Holloway to serve as the Red Cross committee from their community.

Rayford W. Williams, farm agent for the Sea Island Bank and Rural Red Cross drive chairman, visited the Farm Bureau last week to help get the program going in the various communities. The program for each of these three Farm Bureaus was a motion picture on tractor safety, as well as a short comedy.

J. L. Dekle, the Register president, named along with himself, C. C. Anderson, Iveson event, Nevils always has one of the best community shows in the county.

Robert Crouse, rural mail carrier for RFD 3 that serves most of the community, was a guest at the meeting.

B. F. Futch was named community Red Cross chairman at Nevils. He appointed Mrs. Dew H. Smith, O. E. NeSmith, D. B. Edmonds, M. D. May, Jack A. Brannen, R. L. Roberts, J. W. Sanders, Donald Martin and Robert Cox to help him.

V. J. Rowe, member of the rural telephone board, reported to the group that indications are the phones in their community would be cut in for service in April. However, he pointed out that an additional $30 per subscriber would have to be collected before putting the phones into operation. This money could be left at the Rural Telephone office in Statesboro, at Donald Martin's store in Nevils or given to him, he stated.

C. C. Anderson, another member of the telephone board, gave the Register Farm Bureau a report on the discussions with the chairman of the Public Service Commission, Matt L. McWhorter, and engineer for the commission, Bob Alford, Thursday.

Mr. McWhorter and Mr. Alford were in Statesboro all day Thursday, talking with the entire rural telephone board, and Statesboro Company representatives, along with all the engineers involved for the cooperative and REA.

Mr. Anderson expressed a belief that many of the problems that have held up service to date were cleared up and that an agreement could now be signed whereby the program designed to give Bulloch county rural telephones could be put into operation.

Mr. Anderson urged every telephone subscriber to take their phones as soon as service was available and that every indication was extended scope service would be available within a year.

He pointed out that the directors had held their 38th meeting so far trying to help procure telephones for the community, without any pay for their services, and would continue to meet every time there was a need. It is hard to visualize the numerous problems they have encountered. Some have cleared but many others still exist, he pointed out.

KNIGHT — MINICK
At an afternoon ceremony performed in the Leefield Baptist Church, Miss Betty Anne Knight became the bride of Jerry Landrum Minick. Rev. C. L. Ooss officiated in the double ring ceremony. The setting for the ceremony was of palms and ivy, with baskets of lavender and white gladioli and burning tapers in seven-branched candelabra lighted the scene. Mrs. W. D. Lee presented a program of wedding music, and Mrs. Joe Ingram sang "Be-cause" and "Oh Promise Me," and Mrs. Paul Brannen sang "The Wedding Prayer." The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, H. Ulmer Knight. She was dressed in a white tulle wedding gown, with imported duchess satin, covered with layers of tulle and chancelled the scene. The bride had a sweetheart neckline with tiny pleats of tulle and lace, filled in with illusion net, buttoned down the back. The long sleeves were pointed over the hands and fastened with tiny buttons. Her finger tip veil was topped with a train of seed pearls and orange blossoms. She carried an array of white carnations centered with a white orchid. Miss Dot Knight was her sister's maid of honor. She wore an ankle length dress of pink net and lace. The bridesmaids were Miss Jo Ann Denmark of Brooklet and Miss Pat Blake of Hinesville. The junior bridesmaid was also a sister of the bride, Miss Janelle Knight. Their dresses were identical to the maid of honor except in color, and each carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Little Joan Teets of Savannah, a cousin of the groom, was flower girl, dressed in white lace and net.

J. L. Minick, father of the groom, was his son's best man. The usher - groomsmen were J. A. Minick, Jr. of Atlanta, William F. Robertson of Albany, and Bule Miller. The bride's mother was dressed in a white tulle gown, with a long length dress of pale blue nylon tulle and she wore a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother wore a pale aqua crepe and lace, with long length, with pink carnation corsage. Immediately following the wedding a lovely reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. D. Lee. She rendered a musical program during the reception and Misses Madge and Carlyle Lanier, Ginny Lee,

I Pay All My Servants With One Small Check!

THE LADY means her electric servants, of course. They take so much of the heavy work out of housework. They help her sew, cook, clean, wash and iron, at a moment's notice.

Chances are that over the years you have added many wired helpers. For our average residential customer is using more than 8½ times as much electricity as 20 years ago.

While your use of electricity has gone up, the price has come down. You get almost twice as much for your money as you did 20 years ago.

Just go through your house. Look at all of your electric servants. Consider their total wages — pennies a day! Don't you agree that electricity is by far the biggest bargain in your family budget?
